

Process Control Programs

Benefits

- Maintain the system in compliance.
- Establish criteria for strategic adjustment of:
 - chemical, biological and physical characteristics
- Adjust the process to constantly maintain compliance with regulatory requirements
- Maintain efficiency of treatment process
- Provide reduction in operating costs

It is very difficult to maintain a process that ensures compliance with applicable laws and regulations in absence of good process compliance program. ETAG Corporation have developed solutions that integrate strategies, tests and computations that ensure the control of the treatment process so the quality of water parameters are met. For more information about our Process Control Program services, you can visit our company success stories or request more information about this service.

